What we do
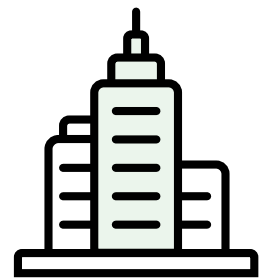

Data Migration for Software Vendors

Datalynx provides data migration services to software vendors who need a reliable partner to transition their clients onto their software. Vendors benefit from the Datalynx "Data Migration as a Service" model which provides seamless, scalable and straightforward data migration and enables vendors to focus on their core business.
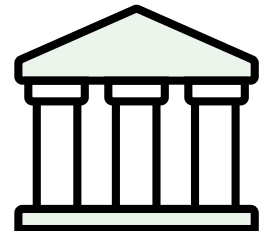

Data Migration for Corporates

Datalynx supports its corporate clients by taking on full responsibility for data migration projects or by supplementing internal data migration teams with expert resource. Corporates benefit from our specialist data migration knowledge which significantly reduces data migration project risk and provides high levels of project assurance.

Data Migration for the Public sector

Datalynx is a trusted partner to the UK public sector, providing data migration services for highly secure applications. We support all types of projects including critical national infrastructure projects with specialist data migration services. Datalynx is an approved Public Sector supplier having won a place in the Government's Digital Market Place GCloud, Digital Outcomes & Specialists and Clone procurement frameworks. These procurement frameworks make it easy for public sector bodies to engage with us.

The Datalynx team

Over the last 14 years Charlie Spinks, MD has brought together the best data migration consultants in the industry to create a pool of specialists our clients trust to deliver. Between them the team has over 200 years' experience covering a spectrum of challenges from large-scale national programmes to niche data migration projects. This team has built up an enviable knowledge of data migration techniques and tools which enables them to tackle and resolve the most complex issues. This benefits our clients directly by saving them time and money and reducing the risk of over-runs and over-spends on data migration projects.

Working alongside our data migration specialists Datalynx also has programme managers, business analysts, technical architects and testers, enabling us to take on complete data migration programmes.

The Datalynx team offers a truly unique and unrivalled capability in data migration – and our client feedback validates this.

Our experience covers the following sectors:
- Government and public services
- Entertainment & media
- Financial services
- Healthcare
- Retail & consumer
- Information Technology & software
- Pharmaceuticals
- Property

"Datalynx have been great partners in delivering a complex and important programme in an exemplary manner. They bring a real sense of collaborative working, speaking plain English and doing things very well."

Jeremy Oppenheim - Director, Safeguarding, Crime & Policing Group, Home Office re. Child Abuse Image Database

"DataLynx have worked for us on several projects in which they provided a complete data migration service to cleanse, de-duplicate and migrate data from a number of large legacy databases into our current live system. They have provided us with an outstanding service and are always committed to delivery."
